Letter from Harry Russell

Mrs. Sylvia W. Russell courteously permits The Times to print the following extract of a letter from her son, Harry, who was in Berlin, Germany, at the time of writing, June 13th. The letter from Harry is in part as follows:

"Just a few words to you while I am in Berlin. Arrived here yesterday afternoon after a very interesting trip. I was in Coblenz on leave, and while there got detailed with Capt. Munson of the 9th Field Signal Battalion as courier to Berlin from Third Army Headquarters. We left Coblenz night before last at 8:47 and came on here via Cologne, arriving at 3 p. m. yesterday. We are traveling in style alright. Occupied a reserved stateroom all the way here. This hotel (Hotel Adlon, Berlin, Unter den Linden etc.) is the finest in the city. I have a nice room with bath etc. The Kaiser and his gang frequently stopped at this hotel before the war. I have just returned from visiting a number of places of interest, the Kaiser's palace, the Reichstag building and several other places I did not know the name of. I was out awhile last evening but did not stay long as one feels so conspicuous, for I have not seen another American soldier on the streets. And you certainly meet no friends here.

"This afternoon there is to be some kind of a demonstration in honor of Rosa Luxemburg. In all probability there will be rioting. They had several big wreaths of flowers with her name in big letters. However, I did not tarry, for we are warned to avoid all public gatherings.

"We are leaving here tonight for Coblenz. We will arrive there late tomorrow afternoon and more than likely will arrive back in Esch Sunday night, when I hope the Fifth Division will be ready to move forward for home."

We are all interested in Harry and hope to soon see him safe and well back in Clay City, when he can tell us of his many experiences since joining the colors nearly two years ago.

Jett at Cynthiana Again

Curtis Jett who sixteen years ago was found guilty of murder at Cynthiana and sentenced to the pen for life, went back to Cynthiana a few days ago and preached in the Circuit Court room where he was tried. In his trial there 11 were for hanging against 1 for life imprisonment. The one who held out against Capital punishment, was on hand at the Jett meeting and acted as door keeper.

Assessments Are Due

Your assessment is due for next year's tax. July 1st is the date of invoice of property instead of Sept. 1st as in former years. The law requires the property holder to go to the county seat to give in his property. This is quite a small job for many of us to have to go so far to do, but the law is mandatory and a heavy penalty is imposed for failure to obey.

Blackberries in Demand

The fields are full of blackberry pickers this week. Briars near town are very scarce, but they are more abundant further out. This fruit is being sold in town at 25, 30 and 35 cents per gallon. The fact that there is practically no other fruit this year puts the blackberry very much in demand.

To Run for Representative

Mr. J. B. Hollon, of Hazel Green, Wolfe county, has entered the race for Representative from the Powell-Wolfe district. He was in Clay City Thursday making acquaintances and left his announcement for The Times as it appears in this issue. We were very favorably impressed with the appearance of Mr. Hollon, and the brief interview we had with him was sufficient to convince us of his qualification for the office he is seeking at the hands of the people. We ask our readers to weigh well the merits of Mr. Hollon's candidacy with that of his announced opponent, Mr. Stamper, and vote for the one they consider the best man and the best Democrat.

A Little Slow

Subscriptions to the bridge fund are coming in a little bit slow just now. We failed to get the latest report, so defer publication of recent contributions until next week when we hope to see it swelled to what it should be. As it is desired to let out the contract for the building by at least July 20, it is therefore important that what is going to be subscribed be put down at once, so the committee may know where they are. Don't fail to see H. G. Crabtree or W. T. McGuire within the next few days and tell them how much you can give. And remember that your failure to do this may prevent the bridge from being built.

Attending Centenary

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Vollmer and daughter, Miss Helen, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mountz and son, left Saturday morning for the Methodist Centenary at Columbus, Ohio, in Mr. Mountz's automobile. They arrived safely in Chillicothe, Ohio in the afternoon of the same day at 5 o'clock without any trouble or mishap whatever.

It's a Daughter

Mr. L. P. Keith came to his office Tuesday morning beaming with broad smiles. A little lady had come into his home to stay—to gladden and brighten the fire-side.

We also learn that Mr. Keith is now a strong believer in woman's suffrage.

Continues Seasonable

Good rains continue to come at sufficient intervals to make things grow right. The potato crop has been saved and gardens in general are all that could be wished for. Wheat threshing has begun. The crop is good.

Gets Chandler Six

Leonard Patrick, of Vaughn's Mill, has recently purchased a new Chandler six automobile. This machine is the most handsome and elaborate car traveling the new Powell county roads.

Appointed County Attorney

Marion Atkinson has been appointed County Attorney of Powell to succeed A. H. Norton, deceased, and has entered upon the duties of the office.

Prohibition Enforcement

In the opinion of the Attorney General it is now unlawful to manufacture or sell wine or beer having more than one half of one per cent. of alcohol, it being maintained by the Federal Government that wine or beer containing alcohol in excess of that amount is "intoxicating" within the meaning of the war-time prohibition law. On the other hand the "wet" interests hold that wine or beer containing two and three quarters per cent. of alcohol is not "intoxicating" within the meaning of the law and, under this theory, many thousand people are continuing the manufacture and sale of such beverages. If the Government's view of the matter is correct, these people are committing a crime against the United States for which they are liable to fine or imprisonment—they are simply gambling on the correctness of their view.

Small Boys in Danger

Some small boys in this town have acquired the habit of jumping on and off the running board of automobiles while they are in motion and not going too fast. This is a very dangerous practice and one that is most sure to bring injury to some of the boys if they persist in the habit. It is hard for drivers to always tell who the boys are as they dart on and hang there until the machine gets up a swift gait, or they are apprehended by the driver, when they drop off. Parents with children running on the streets should investigate their habits, and if they find their boys indulging in this dangerous practice, should put a stop to it at once before some child is injured or probably run over and killed. "Safety first" is the best plan.

Good News Too Late

The Department of Agriculture tells us in a bulletin this week that an excellent quality of sirup can be made from watermelons though the melons be defective. This is given out as a measure of protection against the shortage of sugar. Better, told us sooner. Its too late to plant melons for a crop this year.

Returns from Hospital

Thos. J. White has returned from the hospital at Lexington, where he underwent an operation several days ago as noted in these columns. Mr. White is able to stir about and hopes to soon regain his usual good health.

Returns from Oil Fields

Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Conlee have returned from the oil fields where they have been keeping a boarding house. Mr. Conlee anticipates spending another winter in Florida, leaving here sometime in October.

Hog Prices High

The top price for hogs on the Chicago market is up to $22.40 which is an advance of $1.10 in less than a week. The top price is not yet reached, it is claimed. Corn has also advanced in the market.

Mr. and Mrs. Dock Dehart attended Mrs. McDaniel's funeral, at Slade, Friday. She was a sister of Butler Congleton, who died about a week before.

Whiskey Left Over

There is said to have been $40,000,000 worth of whiskey in Louisville left unsold when the dry law took effect July 1st. The owners of unsold liquor everywhere are asking Congress for special relief. We guess the value is reckoned at the war price which is four times what it cost, and enough has already been made by the advance in price after it was stopped from being made to reimburse every loss on account of any being left over. Besides none would have been left over if it had been sold at only a fair profit over cost of manufacture. But the drinkers are better off because their money bought less of it. The Times suggests that this left over liquor be reduced to denatured alcohol and turned over to the temperance people to joy-ride out in Ford cars.

Adopts Cash System

Hardwick & Co., of Stanton, one of the leading general merchandise establishments of the county, have adopted the cash system of doing business. This means the saving of many dollars for their customers who pay their accounts, and decidedly less worry for the management of the store. Read their announcement in their advertising space this week.

Aultman Robers, a former resident of this city, is now located at Clermont, O., whither he orders The Times to his address, enclosing the necessary dollar bill for one year.

The Stanton and Hazard base ball teams played two very interesting games on the Stanton grounds Saturday. The Stanton boys were the winners in both games.

Misses Elvise and Elsie Vance left one day last week to visit relatives in Lexington, Ohio and Indiana. Mrs. W. R. Raybould accompanied them as far as Lexington.

Mr. and Mrs. Harmon, and children, Mrs. Bernie, and children, Mrs. Jim Knox, and children, Misses Regent Snowden, Alpha Frazier were among those who spent the 4th at Natural Bridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vallandigham, and children, of Winchester, have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Henry Tipton, and family. Mrs. Labe K. Crowe, and baby, returned home with them for a visit.

Rev. R. A. McConagha arrived Wednesday night to take charge of the college work this year. His wife arrived a few days before. We gladly welcome Mr. and Mrs. McConagha into our midst. They made many friends when they were with us nine years ago. We are very fortunate in securing the services of such good people.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

We are authorized to announce A. Howard Stamper, of Campton, Wolfe county, candidate for Representative in this, the Powell-Wolfe district, subject to the action of the Democratic party in primary election, August 2nd, 1919.

We are authorized to announce J. B. Hollon, of Hazel Green, Wolfe county, candidate for Representative in this, the Powell-Wolfe district, subject to the action of the Democratic party in primary election, August 2nd, 1919.

The contest for the Democratic nomination for Governor between Judge Carroll and Governor Black is getting quite exciting, though nothing serious. It is amusing to see each candidate trying to hatch up something against the other to persuade voters to think the other fellow is not as good as "me". So far neither of them has "discovered" anything very bad. Thus after all it seems it will be a choice of the men on their own merits. Nothing extremely sensational can be told to the injury of either.

In the Harrodsburg Herald we see where P. J. Noel is advertising for votes for Governor. It was news to The Times that the third candidate was in the field. May the best man win.

Telephone girls struck in Louisville last week, and the bakers of the same city have struck this week. We would like to see these strikers toiling on the farms these hot days, working in the hay from sun till sun, or in the corn from daylight till dark, or shocking wheat by moonlight, while the telephone girls pick and can berries till bedtime at night. They then could appreciate the food that they eat produced by the farms while earned by them in eight hour days of much lighter and less strenuous work.

The School Book Commission has met and done their do which results in higher prices for school books than ever before. 'Tis always thus each time you think you are making the unruly trusts and their agents come across. You are only spurring them on to greater and more solid depredations of public trust.

This office is being flooded with all kinds of ready made reading matter in plate form and otherwise. We promptly consign all of the veiled advertising matter, and much of it is that, to the waste basket. Those wanting advertising in the Times should first learn that we charge for our space.

From long ago till last Saturday at no place in the United States could a prizefight be pulled off this side of Nevada, but last week the foremost state of Ohio permitted a prizefight at Toledo.

It isn't the mistakes you make—but those you repeat—that hurt.

Announcement

To the Democrats of Powell and Wolfe counties:

Many of you are my witnesses that it was with some degree of reluctance that I, through and by your earnest and urgent solicitations became a candidate for Representative from this, the 94th District of Kentucky. I hesitated, not because I have not a high ambition to represent the people who know me best in the next Legislature, nor because I had any doubt as to whether or not I could win the nomination and election, but because of the fact that I dreaded to engage in a hot and hard contest to procure the nomination. Fellow-citizens, you have called me to battle. I have answered the call, and let me beseech you to rally to my aid, and don't let designing men mislead you and poison your minds against me through promises that might be ("scraps of paper") not complied with. Don't let men deceive you under any promises in future races, but let the future take care of itself. Future races will come up later on, and on the race track they only have one race at a time. I understood that when I entered this race some one said he guessed I thought I was not dead enough and thought I would kill myself deader. To those who think that because I have not been a standing candidate for office for all these years, I am dead, let me say that I am not dead but have only been sleeping. If they think I am dead I hope the people will help me to convince these fellows on August 2nd that I am the runningest dead man they ever saw. My opponents have both been in the Legislature once. I have not had this honor conferred upon me. If you think me capable to represent you, and that I am worthy of your vote, I beg you to vote for me, and if elected I promise you the very best service I can render you.

Sincerely your friend.

J. B. Hollon.

We read in The Times that William Atkinson was interested somewhere around Slade. There are more than one of Stanton's boys interested in this community. Holt Derickson and Ernest Crowe seem about as deeply interested as Mr. Atkinson.

The Slade correspondent said if Bro. Sherman Robbins were under the rooster instead of the cabin, he would stand a better show of getting elected Representative. If every one were like the writer, he is in the right place and the rooster would stand no show.

While driving a young horse Saturday morning Mrs. Durett Ewen and little daughter, of Stanton, and Mrs. Gother Martin were thrown from a buggy near the cross road between Rosslyn and J. M. Conlee's. Resolutions of Stanton Bar

A. H. Norton was born in Estill county, Kentucky, on the — day of September, 1852, and was sixty-six years of age at the time of his death which occurred June 2nd, 1919. At an early age he moved to Powell county, and was united in marriage to Miss Maggie Ewen, a member of one of the most popular families in Powell county. As a result of this marriage they had three children, a son and two daughters, who together with his widow survive him.

He rapidly grew in favor and popularity in his adopted county. In the year 1891 he was elected Clerk of the Powell Circuit Court, which office he held for a number of years. While serving as clerk he studied law, and was admitted to the bar and engaged in active practice. He was twice elected to the office of County Attorney, which office he held at the time of his death. He made an efficient officer and was held in high esteem for his honesty and fair dealings. Mr. Norton was a man of high ideals and noble impulses; was of a genial and happy disposition and an agreeable and pleasant companion, fond of his fellow man. At the time of his death Mr. Norton was a member of Stanton Lodge No. 352 F. & A. M. and had always taken an active part in Masonry, and was devoted to its principles and teachings. He has served often as Master of the Lodge, and frequently represented the same in the Grand Lodge at its meetings in Louisville.

In the death of Mr. Norton the county loses a valuable officer and an honest and worthy citizen; the bar one of its best members; the wife and children a loving, indulgent, devoted husband and father, and to them we extend the tender and loving sympathy of the members of the Stanton bar.

Letter From A. M. Burgher

623 Carlisle Ave.
Dayton, O., July 5, 1919.

Mr. J. E. Burgher, Pub.,
Clay City, Ky.

Cousin John:

Have just moved to new address, so please send the paper to above address. Also if I am behind on my subscription, send the amount.

I am proud you have commenced publishing the paper again, as it is like a letter from home, and as so many of the older residents have moved away from that locality, it is interesting for them to learn how the remainder are progressing. I am certainly interested in my home state, and its people, who have not had the opportunities they should have had. I have observed that where our mountain people have had the opportunity, they have made a good record.

I think that our State should wake up to the importance of more educational facilities, good roads, scientific agriculture, and a hearty cooperation of all for results that make for progress. Another point I might mention is: the natural resources of the State. The inhabitants are certainly entitled to a reasonable profit on their product put on the world markets. The keynote is to manufacture the material at home and keep a reasonable profit to the State's credit. It is due the people and I would be glad for them to have it. And last, but by no means the least, we are proud to see the lid go on booze.

Wishing you continued success with The Times, I remain,

Yours truly,
A. M. Burgher.

Thinks it Fine.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 6, 1919.

Mr. J. E. Burgher,
Clay City, Ky.

I am pleased to tell you I am receiving The Times and think it is just fine. It is like getting a letter from home for I have so many dear old friends there and I long to see them all again some sweet day.

Please let me know how my subscription stands.

Yours respectfully,
Etta L. Kincaid.

If you are dissatisfied with your farm get a real estate man to advertise it for sale. Then read the advertisement; it may make you better satisfied.

Fishing time is here. Let me sell you your reels, poles, hooks and lines, floats and sinkers, dip nets and seines.

SLADE.

On July 3, the death angel again entered the home of the Congleton family and took Cyrene McDaniel. Born in Wolfe county June 25 1838, was therefore 81 years old and died from old age. For 6 months she had been confined to her bed. Cyrene Congleton was thrice married. First when but 16 to Frank Lacy, of Hazel Green who lived but few years. The second marriage was to Henry Spencer, of Wolfe Co. in 1864. He lived 18 years, and she was last married to L. H. McDaniel of Elliott county in 1890. Her husband outstripped her in the race of death one year and 5 days and she never really recovered after his death. She is survived by two brothers and two sisters, Usebus Congleton, of Lexington and Dr. Congleton, of Wolfe county; Mrs. Bullock, of Lexington, and Mrs. Ulela Cox, of New Mexico. There was but three days difference in her death and that of her youngest brother, W. B. Congleton. Mrs. McDaniel never had any children of her own, but without being told no guest would have ever suspected she was not the mother of the McDaniel children. She expressed her willingness to go and said she was in the hands of a just God. She will not be missed only in the McDaniel home, but by all who knew her. Among the relatives attending Mrs. McDaniel's funeral were Floyd Congleton and wife of Mt. Sterling; Weedon, Lee and Thomas Congleton, of Lexington; Mr. and Mrs. Dehart, of Stanton, and others.

On Monday, June the 30th, God saw fit to remove from our midst, and transplant into another world from whence no traveler has ever returned, one of our most highly esteemed and leading citizens, W. B. Congleton, while his death was no surprise, the fatal stomach trouble had set upon him and nothing could be done only relieve his suffering. Mr. Congleton was born March the 5th 1815 in Wolfe county, was 74 years old, the youngest son of the old Dr. Congleton, still well remembered as a pioneer practitioner in this and adjoining counties. He was united in marriage to Miss Rolna Howl, August the 1, 1873, and to this union twelve children were born. Four have passed on, while the following eight survive: George Congleton, the oldest lives at Taylorsville, Spencer county, Ky; W. T. Congleton, of Lexington; E. B. Congleton, of Los Angeles, Cal.; C. S. Congleton, of Paulina, Ore; Mrs. Dr. Broadus, of Irvine; Mrs. Marion Atkinson, of Slade; Miss Ella Congleton, of Lexington, and Miss Minnie B. Congleton, of Slade. At the time of his departure he was survived by two brothers and three sisters, Usebus Congleton, of Lexington; Dr. Arkil Congleton, of Wolfe county; Mrs. Robina Bullack, of Lexington; Ulela Cox, Estancia, New Mexico; and Mrs. Cyrena MacDaniel, of Slade. He had sixteen grandchildren, and a host of nieces and nephews. All of his children have been with him during his last illness and all except C. S. and E. B. were here to attend the funeral. Mr. Congleton was a member of the Masonic order, and was buried by this lodge. He never united with any church, but the writer has known him for 30 years and while thinking of his quiet life and conciliatory disposition with others, we can hold for him a hopeful repose, for we are taught "Blessed is the peace maker." He loyally supported the church, and was particularly loved by the children. To his broken hearted family, all of their many friends offer their sincere and heart felt sympathy. The silver cord is loosened and the golden bar is broken. His presence will henceforth exist only as a sweet memory. For what is death? 'Tis slumber to the weary, 'tis rest to the forlorn; 'Tis shelter to the dreary, 'tis peace amid the storm. 'Tis entrance to our home, 'tis passage to that God, Who bids His children come, when their weary course is trod. M. F.

Among those attending the burial of Mr. Congleton were: Weed and Lee Congleton, Clayton Congleton and wife, Misses Ethel and Bulah Congleton, of Lexington. James Welch, of Rosslyn; Luther Stephens, Wm. Garrett and J. D. Atkinson, of Stanton. Mesdames Margaret Faulkner, Minnie Bowen, Wm. Garrett and Nona Bowen, of Bowen. Mrs. Nannie Creary, of Louisville; Mrs. Taylor Adams, of Finwick, and others. James Ewen, of Stanton, undertaker.

CASH SYSTEM

Upon deliberate thought and consideration we have decided, beginning Monday, July 14th, to do a strictly cash business, feeling sure that we can be of greater and better service to our many patrons and the community at large by giving them better prices for cash. By our paying cash we can get the best prices from the best manufacturing and jobbing firms which enables us to sell at closer prices for cash. We thank you and duly appreciate your patronage in the past, and ask that you let us show our appreciation of same by saving you money under a cash system. There are other reasons too numerous to mention why we can save you money by a cash system, some of which are time and expense of bookkeeping. After our many years of pleasant and successful business with you we would not make this change did we not know that we could make it to the interest of our patrons.

We can not here, of course, quote prices on everything we handle, but the following are prices we are making on some articles that are daily family use:

Perfection Flour 96 lb.	$6.50	Shine-All, per cake,	$.05
Lexington Maid "	6.50	Rolled Oats, two for	.25
Roasted Coffee per lb.	.30	1-2 lb. net can Salmon	.10
Silver Leaf Lard 50 lb.	19.25	Tomatoes, 3 lb. cans	.20
Meat, per lb.	.37 1-2	Star Tobacco, per lb.	.85
Jewel Soap, per cake	.04	Bourbon Poultry Cure	.50
Lenox "	.05	Porter's Healing Oil	.25

If you save a penny on each 5-cent article, how much do you save on a dollar?

Remember that we carry as nearly as possible everything called for.

We are glad to state that Mr. A. G. Smathers, of Mt. Sterling, a merchant of many years experience, is now connected with our firm.

Hardwick & Co., Stanton

peace maker," He loyally supported the church, and was particularly loved by the children.

To his broken hearted family, all of their many friends offer their sincere and heart felt sympathy.

The silver cord is loosened and the golden bar is broken. His presence will henceforth exist only as a sweet memory. For what is death?

'Tis slumber to the weary, 'tis rest to the forlorn;

'Tis shelter to the dreary, 'tis peace amid the storm.

'Tis entrance to our home, 'tis passage to that God,

Who bids His children come, when their weary course is trod. M. F.

Don't forget the ice cream supper to be given by the Odd Fellows Saturday evening beginning at 2:30. The proceeds will go to the Widows' and Orphans' Home at Lexington.

It is remarkable how quickly the public has acquired the habit of using a two-cent stamp instead of the three. No one seems to have forgotten this advantage and no one seems to have had an oversupply. It seems to have just come out even with everybody.

A Mr. Knapp, of Oregon, was here Monday representing the Burk-Tulsa Oil Co., of Wichita Falls, Tex. This company owns some leases in the famous Burk-burnett field and is offering some stock in their company at par—$10 per share. Mr. Knapp impressed us as a very conservative gentleman and we are sure his proposition is fully worthy of consideration.

Gets the Ice Just the Same

Mr. Geo. S. Ware liked to miss the ice for his customers Monday as the Mt. Sterling Ice Company which ships him the ice from Indian Fields, whither it is brought by truck from Mt. Sterling, failed to get it to Indian Fields in time for shipment. But the truck later brought a load through.

When we get our road completed this will be the quickest and surest way to get any shipment from near points.

The Differenc

The difference between a pretty woman who commits murder and a rich man's son who finds himself up against a charge of homicide is that the woman usually fashions her defense along the lines of tears, shapely ankles or smiles for the jurors, while the young man must depend upon his father's shekels and his standing in the community.

The Plight of An Editor

Editing a news paper is an easy job—if one can stand it.

If it contains any advertisements, the subscribers claim they take too much space.

If there is a scarcity of advertising, it is unpopular, and the people won't have it.

If we attend church regularly, they say we do it for effect.

If we stay away from church, they say we are monstrously heathenish.

If we accept an invitation to a wedding, they say we are invited to "write it up."

If we are on the streets much they say we neglect our business.

If we avoid going on the street they say we don't hustle around after the news.

If we reject a long-winded communication, its author becomes enraged and discontinues his paper.

If we publish lengthy communications, our subscribers say we lack discretion, and put it in to fill up.

If we omit to decorate our office window Washington's birthday, they say we lack enterprise and that there isn't a drop of patriotic blood in our degenerate carcass.

If we omit jokes, they say we are poor, miserable fossils.

If we are single, they say we are too helpless to get married.

If we are married, they say it's a pity for our wives.

If we publish a man who has brought disgrace upon his family the friends of the family never forgive us.

If we, out of goodness of heart decline to say anything on the subject, the man's enemies are disappointed, and we are branded as white-livered cowards.

We are liable to receive these raps and many more, and we are always ready to receive visitors, whether accompanied by a dog or not. Of course we do not claim there is any work in running a newspaper. Everybody knows its a snap.
